VOL. 9 NO. 40 WARREN, PENNSYLVANIA Thursday, September 12, 1957 10 Cents A Copy

JULIUS LAMAR THORN has been named general secretary of the Warren YMCA, filling the post vacated by the recent resignation of Dan K. Walton.

The new executive comes to Warren from Indianapolis, where he served since 1954 as an associate secretary to the Indiana YMCA state committee, and will take over his duties here shortly after the first of October.

Mr. Thorn has a broad experience in YMCA work which dates back to 1926.

REELECTED PRESIDENT of the Warren County Cancer Society Dr. John Larson. He was named at the annual meeting of the organization September 3rd.

MISS MARGARET ROBERTSON

Miss Margaret W. Robertson, eastern region field staff member of the YWCA, will be in Warren next Monday and Tuesday to assist the local organization in the recruitment and training of volunteer leaders, and development of programs and financial support plans.

Completed Paving Is Approved By Council

Paving completed this summer, at a total cost of $93,779.65 was approved by council at its September meeting, Monday evening. Also approved were storm sewers for McPherson st. and Madison ave., at a cost of $2,013 and $3,286, respectively. These sewers will not be paid for by the bordering property owners.

Councilman Carbon asked if similar consideration were being given other areas where there is a need for storm sewers. He was told a study is being made. (Councilman Carbon was referring to his Fourth ward where a sewer plan was promised but never carried out in an area which is nearly bereft of workable storm sewers.)

The individual streets, their footage, total costs, and foot-paving cost:

- Hazel st., 932 feet, at $6.55, cost $9,164.91.
- Lexington ave., 1,009 feet at $8.50, cost $12,880.86.
- Ludlow st., 2,000 feet at $7.43, cost $22,617.34.
- Madison ave., 1982 feet, at $8.12, cost $24,145.
- Plum st., 1425 feet at $6.96, cost $14,901.02.
- McPherson st., 2,000 feet at $7.54, cost $22,617.
- Seneca st., 816 feet at .87 cents, cost $1,068.43.

Borough Manager Geracimos reported that the Department of Forests and Waters engineers had been in Warren and approved the lower Glade run project. They promised to write a letter which would give the dates when they will start work on upper Glade run and Indian run. (And there is nothing like an unwritten letter to stop flash floods.)

Councilman Yagge proposed an ordinance amendment which would make it necessary for those constructing buildings which require state approval for fire protection reasons to obtain such approval before Warren officials will act on a building permit. Such buildings include hotels, theaters, rooming houses, and similar structures. It passed three readings.

Solicitor Harper reminded council that bids on the new sewage plant will be received and opened by the authority on October 2. The bond issue then will be sold.

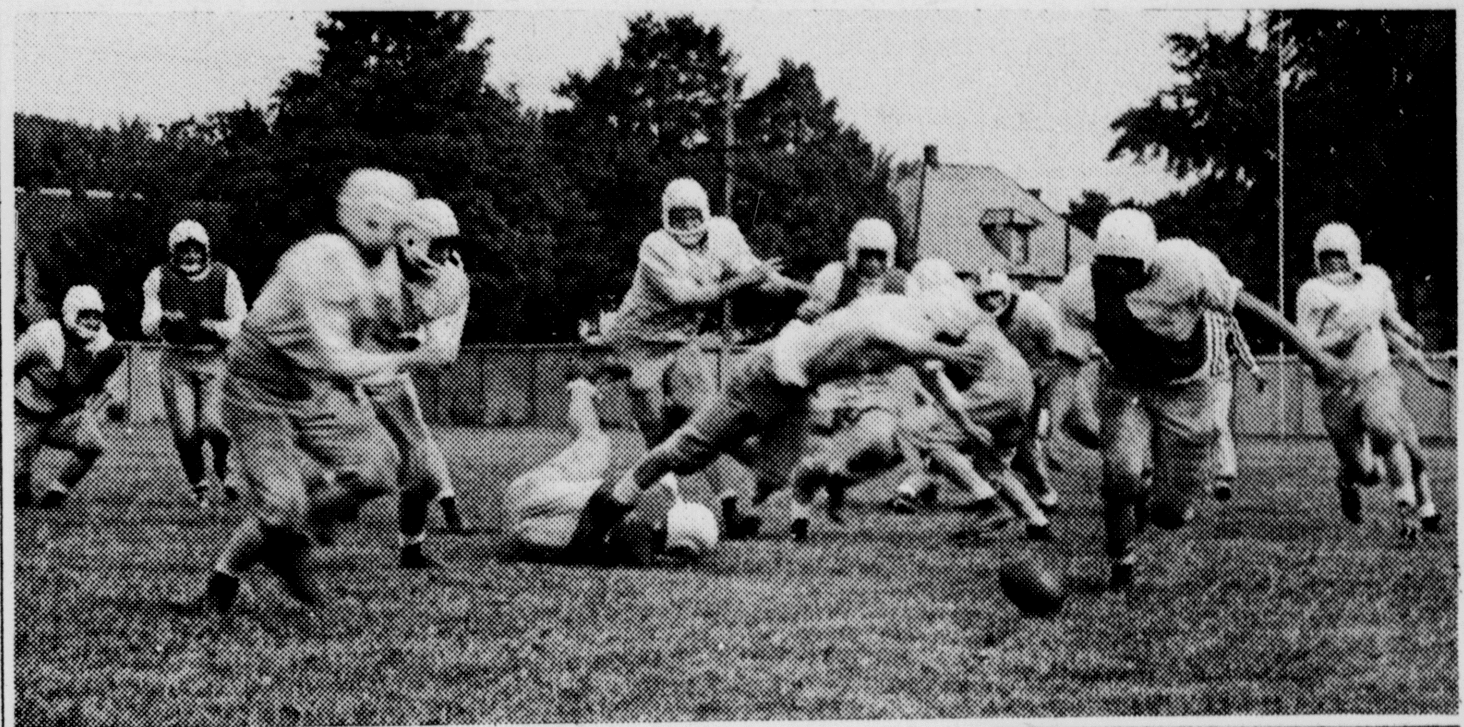

Councilman Miller said he represented a constituent who had backed his car into a utility pole. The pole, unfortunately, had been located in a portion of Pennsylvania ave. Councilman Miller suggested that some motorist might sue the borough for such geological anachronism.

Borough Manager Geracimos said the Penelec was moving this and another pole, one of which would cost $2,000 because of basement complications.

Councilman Yagge said there were some trees which also reached into the roadway. This will be remedied when the Parks Department finds time to cut them down.

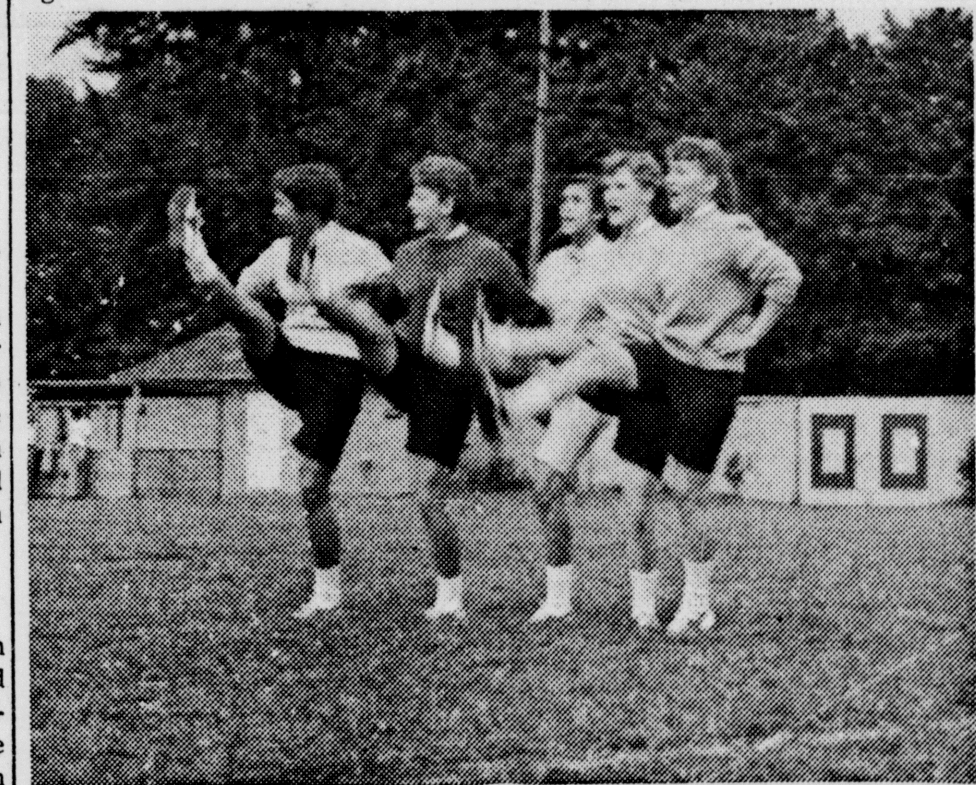

Councilman Laskaris complained that too many motorists are parking on the wrong side of the road in complete disregard of the law and the rights of others.

Councilman Carbon said he believed council should have more time to consider important law

PIGSKIN PREVIEW. The 1957 version of the Warren high Dragon football squad was seen for the first time in the annual intra-squad games staged before a slim crowd at War Memorial Field last Saturday afternoon.

Using the split "T" for the first time under the tutelage of Ralph Veights, the Blue and White gridders looked "pretty" good. We'll know better after the opening encounter under the arcs at Corry Friday night.

KICKING IT UP are five of Warren high's ten cheerleaders who will perform at high school sport events this year.

CHAMPIONS. Tim Creal and Mrs. Hal (Mary) Conarro are the 1957 golf champions of the Cone-wango Valley Country Club. Tim steam-rollered his opponents, 5 and 4 over Bob Walsh, 5 and 4 over Dick Krapfel, 6 and 5 over Pete Julian, and 10 and 9 over Skip Morine. Tim also preceded the finals by scoring a hole-in-one on the No. 7 hole during a tune-up round. Mary took her title by defeating B. J. Branch, Helen Culbertson, and Anne Blackman. A newcomer to the club she plays a very steady game in the low eighties and will be the lady to beat for a few seasons.

School To Provide Recreational Leaders

An abbreviated session Monday evening saw the Warren Borough board of school directors going through a routine agenda that included the providing of recreational supervisors at the Beaty tennis courts, Beaty ice rink, and Youth Canteen for the school year 1957-58.

The motion passed on the issue engages eleven faculty members to serve up to a maximum of 1,216 hours on the three recreational programs.

In other action the board accepted the recommendation of the finance committee to pay bills amounting to $65,938.30. Those of a major nature were $17,109, lease rental to the Warren Area Joint School Board; $35,928, first installment to the joint board; $1,066, appropriation to Warren Library association; $1,246, contract with Shulman's; and $3,540, McClintock boiler installed by Milton C. Dahler.

Miss Margaret Corbin was elected to instruct students at McClintock school three mornings a week to help the overload in the first and third grades where there are 37 and 44 students respectively. While retired, Miss Corbin, under law, is permitted to instruct 50 days a year.

The tuition rate in the elementary schools was set at $25.20 ($12.50 for kindergarten), Ralph Nichols was employed as part-time janitor at Jefferson, Jefferson principal David Olson was granted permission to attend a Sunday School conference in California October 12-14, Mrs. Ruth Bannon and Miss Delores Benson were recognized for acquiring their bachelor and masters degrees respectively, and the maximum number of dental examinations to be given by the doctor for the year was placed at 900.

Other payments approved were $4,368 for recreational services and $145 for special services.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

GLARING PEDESTAL

This so-called land of the free is sitting on a hot rock out Arkansas way with the world looking on. We didn't move to help the Hungarians, but we talked much. Now we are letting a small-gauge governor undermine even our talk.

How can we preach freedom of man to others when we shackle minorities in our own country? Little Rock no longer is little. It is small . . . small in vision . . . small in moral stature.

The point is tiny, but its prick may deflate our world esteem.

WHO COMMANDS?

The use of troops by Governor Faubus provides one easy answer to that phase of the problem. The commander in chief of all the armies is the President. He could order those troops either to go home or to act as defenders of the colored children rather than a blockade to them.

SO BRAVE

There is a powerful picture on the front page of the Tuesday edition of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. It shows the white boys who blocked off the negroes when they attempted to attend the North Little Rock high school.

The camera catches them full face as they stand off the colored boys. In the center of the group is a brash-faced individual who looks his goonish part. Cigarette dangling from his lips he glares at the colored boys, bravely backed by many white brothers.

Some of these seem amused. Two are using movie cameras, and another has a radio mike in his hand. If you want to see adult behavior reflected in the faces of those teenagers about whom so many are concerned, look this one over.

Our reaction to the picture was a look ahead to the day when these same two boys, white and colored, may face each other under different circumstances. If the colored boys manage to get an education so that they can rate on an economic level they may be forced to work together, or a colored boy become a surgeon and have his present challenger under his knife . . . or . . . so many avenues in the life we live that often brings us back to narrow corners and dead ends.

SOLUTION?

It has been proposed that a committee of governors be appointed to seek a solution to the Little Rock problem. It is not a Little Rock problem. It is a national question of whether or not America is a land of equality.

We do not consider the qualities that advance a man in the political field sufficiently to make him a governor to be a guarantee that he is qualified to settle this racial problem. That has been ruled on by the courts. Those involved need only obey the law of the land.

WHY EXCEPTIONS

Warren has passed a law which forbids peddlers from visiting homes unless they are invited to do so. This is a tried law which has been upheld by the highest court in the land. It is an all-out law that shows no favor.

But already we are being told that exceptions will be allowed. This might, in the spirit of the law, be done in the case of charities. But why any local merchant or businessman should be excepted we fail to see.

Either this applies to all who have something to sell or it is no good and will not work. And this applies to local papers as well as to national magazines. It applies to the local fruit merchant as well as the visitor.

An owner of property has a right to privacy. This law simply puts teeth in that right. If he wishes to file a complaint or to call the police he now has a local ordinance upon which to take his stand. And it matters not who the violator may be. If the property owner complains the law must be enforced.

Otherwise we have no law.

EQUALLY GUILTY?

Much of the press can be considered equally as guilty of vulgar sensationalism as the magazine. Confidential may be. The recent trial which dragged the lives of many notables into the mire would have reached very few eyes and ears if it had been dependent on the columns of Confidential.

The same goes for many stories the magazine has carried in the past. Press and radio used the magazine as a footstool upon which to stand while repeating the lurid tales.

BUYERS' CORNER

OH, YOU GIRLS!

Is a sweater a utilitarian garment or the swan of the clothing industry? We have publicity from Eleanor Kairalla, who we think is a girl, or a lady, or a woman. This she does for the Woolknit Associates, Inc., and it tells us that the sweater started out as an ugly duckling, the purpose of which was to induce sweat. Today it is a swan . . . and any man can see why.

Before 1910 it was a garment used by women for athletics, such as bicycling, walking, or other ladylike exercise. In 1913 the first novelty knit came through and softer lines that flattered some portions caught our lady's fancy. Here was utilitarianism of a different sort.

So, last year the sweater sales hit an all-time high, and the sweating was transferred to the male population as the sweater girls pop-eyed him. And all this is to preview the fact that starting next Monday it will be sweater week.

Some of this is Eleanor's and some just crept in as we conjured up pictures of those sweated swans she suggested. And we can see the point. Those early models just didn't reveal femininity's wings.

They even are picking a sweater girl of the year, and a sweater guy, plus a pint-sized sweater queen of 1973 vintage. We are not quite sure for what we qualify because the publicity was addressed to Dear Sweater Girl. That is what made us express a shade of doubt about Eleanor. Some day she/he and we will have to get together and straighten some things out.

Except the sweaters. We prefer their unstraightness.

QUIET ON 1958 FRONT

We are beginning to wonder if the car industry squeezed itself dry in the big 1957 publicity drive to sell new cars. We haven't heard any more than an Edsel peep about 1958. What have they left to say . . . or do? We have heard some whippers, but they are very unofficial and certainly a long way from those "leaks" of other seasons which some times exploded into battles in print. Such as threats to withdraw advertising from papers which predicted coming lines. And test runs in places where just enough people would see to start talk.

We have heard it said that Chevrolet will be out to counteract the gains for Ford and Plymouth which resulted from last year's changes. Chevy did little but fuel inject. Plymouth went all-out, and Ford provided low, lean lines, a retractable convertible hardtop, and now its Edsel.

Buick also is expected to blast out something radically new in an effort to catch Plymouth. And there is talk in the industry of some line or lines coming forth with a model that will compete with the obvious advantages of the Rambler and some foreign importations.

One ripple of talk about Chevrolet is that it is seriously experimenting with a front-wheel drive or a motor mounted in the rear. The front-wheel thought makes more sense to us for a car as standard as Chevrolet.

As for the public it has some hopes, too. At the present prices of food, clothing, and home maintenance it would like to see some budget relief through its motoring expenditures. If gasoline is going to stay up, then a bit of mileage that would compare with foreign makes would be of great interest.

Though many are buying foreign cars, there are disadvantages which the average person will not accept. The small ones are not as safe as American cars. Most people won't risk their families in them. And most of the so-called cheap cars actually have little more in them than an American car of pre-war vintage.

The public wants a 1958 automobile, power steering, power brakes, automatic shift, radio, heater, many little accessories that provide comfortable motoring, and the public would like a little more safety built into its cars.

Why automatic shift is not standard today is difficult to understand except for the possibility that there is an extra dollar to be made by selling it as a deluxe feature. It ceased to be so several years ago. There is nothing that can be done with the standard shift of yesterday that can't be done with the automatic shift of today, and more smoothly. We are allowing for a little engineering ingenuity when we make that statement.

There is no reason why foreign cars should bother our home market. We can meet them in style, and we have better features. We are bigger, and safer. Just add a bit of economy through lower gasoline consumption and the invaders will be left with little but their prestige and their parking advantages (which is lost once you get hold of an American car with its power steering, especially Chrysler products).

But how about 1958? We will hear about self-adjusting brakes (already have), more safety features as standard, new types of riding qualities, new lines that will break the 1960 barrier, more fancy sport models, an economy model, parking aids, new lights, more power, more automatic controls, bigger tires, bigger windows, and bigger prices.

To these we hopefully add a discovery made by Ford in its experiments with smog. A method has been found to purify the exhaust from cars. It involves an economical catalyst. If such is true, all states should make it a required part of all vehicles.

In Brief

ACTS ON APPEALS. Judge A. C. Flick, Jr., this week handed down court decisions on appeals filed by the Warren County Commissioners and the district attorney's office.

In their appeal of April 26 the commissioners set forth ten exceptions to the form and contents of the 1956 audit, pointing out that certain items shown were not itemized as required by law and that some had been omitted entirely. The court was requested to direct the auditors to determine and state the amount of any monies due and owing to Warren County in connection with the issue.

Judge Flick heard oral arguments in the court and on September 9 handed down an elongated order on the exceptions involving a half a dozen county offices.

In the case of seven exceptions the county auditors are to make a supplemental audit and file a report by October 24 as to the items mentioned in the exception. The commissioners in turn have the right to appeal from the report in connection with four exceptions and any county office holder other than a commissioner can file.

Most of the exceptions protested listings of income, expenses, etc., in one lump sum rather than in an itemized manner.

While complimenting the county commissioners for being alert in attempting to operate county offices at a more efficient level, the judge overruled them in the second issue.

This regarded expenses incurred in June and July for investigations carried out by the sheriff's office under direction of district attorney M. A. Kornreich.

As the county has no detective on the payroll, the DA, with approval from the court in 1954, has engaged the sheriff and his assistant to handle certain criminal investigations.

The commissioners feel such investigations are not the duties of the sheriff and refused to pay his expenses during June and July.

The court ruled that these services were valuable and necessary and ordered them paid and continued in order to expedite the proper administration of criminal justice in the county.

A CAR AND A TREE suffered over $200 damage at 1:12 a.m. Wednesday morning when a car driven by Vic Hendrickson, of North Warren, went into a skid on Willoughby ave. in Warren and struck the upright object.

FINAL DAY to register for the November election is Monday, September 16. The registration office at the Warren County Court House will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the final day Monday.

INVESTIGATIONS now being made by State Police of the Warren barracks include the larceny of a radiator and merchandise from Frank Cole at Pleasant twp. Tuesday night, and a steer theft at Lottsville sometime between Friday noon and Saturday night. The four-legged animal was valued at $140 and was taken from the Archie Woodin farm.

FOUR EMPLOYEES of the Warren State Hospital are undergoing interrogation by Sgt. Donald Holmes of the State Police in anticipation of police commission appointments by Gov. Leader. They are Jack Henry, Albert Foy, Millard Baxter and Raymond Anderson, Warren, and Doug Ward, of North Warren.

Such an appointment would give the men a certain amount of police authority.

A REGIONAL MEETING of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held in Warren Wednesday evening, September 18, at the YMCA. Robert Geiger, local past president and regional vice president, will preside over the session.

AMONG DISTINGUISHED GUESTS present for the Northwest Region's political activities conference for Republican Women in Warren Monday were state senators Rowland B. Mahoney and LeRoy E. Chapman; state representatives Ford E. O'Dell, Stewart Helm and Albert W. Johnson; Mrs. Meade D. Detweiler, Jr., state chairman of legislative committee; Mrs. B. Clair Jones, state chairman of political activities; Mrs. Jay Cooke, state chairman congressional committee; and Mrs. William E. Martindale, state president of Republican Women.

Mrs. Fred Shattuck, of Warren, was chairman of the all-day affair.

CAMPAIGN DATES for the annual Boy Scout fund drive will be October 21-31. The drive will be for funds to carry on the coming year's program. In Warren, where the council is a member of the Community Chest, there will be no independent campaign.

On October 19 the scouts will promote the drive by washing windshields of parked cars.

AT WARREN HIGH sophomores Ellen Kenny and Nancy Goodwill, juniors Sue Lawson and Maxine Werlin, and seniors Sue Carlson and Bonnie Tremblay were elected sports managers by the Girls Athletic association cabinet.

Judy Whiteshot was named editor-in-chief of the first two editions of The Dragonette, school newspaper.

$2000 DAMAGE was inflicted to two cars and as many people acquired injuries in a mishap occurring at 3 p. m. Sunday five miles west of Warren on Route 6.

It has been reported that a car operated by Richard Danuski, Pittsfield, had slowed up for another vehicle when it was struck in the rear by John Zamborik, Jr., Columbus.

The passengers suffering minor injuries were Thomas Savko, Columbus, and Mary Bubash, Pittsfield. Both were riding in the Zamborik car.

SAFETY FILMS have been shown throughout this week in Warren schools by State Trooper Ted Davidson, of Erie. He will visit the county institutions next week.

Sgt. Leeper, of the Franklin State Police barracks, was in Warren Tuesday to lecture to Penelec drivers.

SEVEN NEW CASES in August brought the total cases now under the care of the Warren Visiting Nursing association to 63.

PERSONALITIES. Warren County Heart association executive secretary Mrs. Phyllis L. Duncan will attend an annual staff training session today and tomorrow at Pittsfield. On Saturday and Sunday Dr. L. W. Krespan, local president, Dr. A. A. Marceca, Dr. Raymond Lowe, Dr. Robert Donaldson, Dr. J. Theodore Valone and Harold LaPoint will represent the organization at the annual meeting and scientific sessions. The latter will serve on a panel discussing heart education.

Dr. Donald L. Creed, director of laboratories and pathologist at Warren General Hospital, was author of an article titled "Paper Electrophoresis of Serum" which appeared in the August edition of the Pennsylvania Medical Journal.

E. M. Bacon, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest, is to be transferred to a staff position in the fire control division of the Washington office effective October 6. He will be replaced in the Warren post, which he held for two years, by John E. Franson, assistant to the forest supervisor of the White Mountain National Forest.

MEN IN SERVICE. Army Pvt. Philip R. Eastman, 1957 graduate of Warren high school, recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training under the Reserve Forces Act program at Fort Knox, Ky. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eastman, of Clarendon.

HIGHLIGHTS of the 1957-58 Boy Scout program in the Warren area were discussed by 50 leaders when they gathered at Camp Jefmore last week. Commissioner James Blomquist presided.

Among future projects are an Institutional Conclave September 23, a Boy Scout County Fair next May, and a First Aid Meet October 19.

ALL VETERANS are reminded that to be eligible to vote this November 5 on an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania making it possible for the Commonwealth to increase its indebtedness in order to pay a bonus to Veterans of the Korean Conflict, they must be registered on or before September 16.

The only exception to this rule is in the case of a veteran who is bedridden or hospitalized due to illness or physical disability contacted or suffered in connection with or as the result of military service. According to Act 316 approved and signed by Governor George M. Leader July 8, persons in the above category.... "may vote under the provisions of this act in any election held in this Commonwealth if he is (1) unavoidably absent from the state or county of his residence regardless of whether he is registered or enrolled or (2) in the county of residence and is registered and enrolled".

Payment authorized by the 'Korean Veterans Compensation Act' cannot be made until funds are provided. An amendment to the Constitution authorizing the sale of bonds to secure funds for this purpose will be decided upon by the electors at the polls during the 1957 elections on November 5.

HELP FOR TROUBLED FAMILIES. Judge Alexander C. Flick is shown granting a new charter to the Family Service and Children's Aid Society of Warren county. Because disrupted families most often are the cause of problems with children the Children's Aid Society at its annual May meeting voted to expand its services and adopted changes for its articles of incorporation.

With the new charter now approved the Society is adding Miss Katherine Knapp to its present staff and the increased help for Warren county families will be available after October 1. This new service was organized under the auspices of the Society with the guidance of Mrs. Anna Ramsey, former executive director of the Western Pennsylvania Children's Aid Society.

ety, and with the support of community leaders and other welfare agencies.

In addition to the original services of adoption, foster home care, and help to unmarried mothers, the expanded scope of the Society will offer help and advice on the problems of marriage, living together as a family, the problems of growing up, and the problems of the aged.

TIM, AGAIN

Tim Creal made it fifteen golf championships Sunday when he defeated Skip Morine for the Cone-wango Valley Country Club title. He has held the crown that many times. Chuck Davis and Dick Krapfel have been the only ones to interrupt the series in recent years. Last year Skip Morine won the honors when Tim was upset in an opening match.

In other play, Harold Smith defeated Lloyd Cleveland for the second flight title, and Tim Atwell got by Sam Rasmussen to play Kerm Vicander for the second flight consolation.

Dr. Giunta defeated Dr. Myers in the third flight finals. The consolation still is a bit confused.

NEW CHAMP

The ladies have a new queen at the CVCC. Mary Conarro defeated Anne Blackman in the finals and now tops the field officially.

She also had 81 for the best score in this week's action and won the first division low net competition. Betty Rice led the second and Dee Newmaker the third. In the match against par event for non-winners, Marie Hamilton led the first division and Betty Rice the second.

The last tournament and dinner of the year will be held next Wednesday.

DIVOTS

Chuck Jones, former Warren pro and now an amateur, teamed with Frank Bitenz to lead a field of 108 teams and win the Yankee Run course amateur-amateur bestball event. Chuck had a 73. Their best ball was 64.

Tim Creal made it a week by having a hole-in-one on number seven, winning the championship, HOOK. Tim Creal, 1957 golf champion of the CVCC, hooked this drive off number nine fairway but it did no harm. He won the hole, which was the twenty-seventh of the day, and closed out the match with Skip Morine.

and leading the weekly tournament with 12 putts for nine holes. His medal score was 68! Other winners in the men's weekly event were Pete Juliano with 36 in the first flight, Bill Simonson and Harold Smith had 14 putts in the second and Tom Atwell tied George Konkol at 42. In the third it was Ray Stein with 14 putts and Nummy Lundahl with 40, and in the fourth it was Harry Barley and Jake Connelly with 14 putts and Merle Rosell with 45.

* At last peek Fred Paine, Jr., formerly of Warren, still was in the national amateur tournament. He was still going after the field had been cut from 200 to 32 by 18-hole elimination matches.

Patronage Revelations

By Inez Robb

Both the Republicans and the Democrats have recently had their separate crosses to bear via public humiliation. But it is one woman's opinion that the chagrin cuts deepest with the Democrats. The GOP was betrayed by an amateur politician, but the Democrats received the unkindest cut of all from a professional.

It was an amateur, Maxwell H. Gluck, newly-appointed as ambassador to Ceylon, who snafued his party when he flunked his oral tests before a Senate committee. The Senate group was cruel enough to believe that Gluck should know of and be able to pronounce the names of the Prime Ministers of Ceylon (Solomon West Ridgway Dias Bandaranaike) and India (Jawaharlal Nehru).

Both are jawbreakers, all right. But Gluck will have done his country a tremendous service if this incident serves to focus the attention of the electorate on the hard fact that it and its Congressional representatives have always been too stingy to support the foreign service and our ambassadors in the manner required by diplomatic procedure.

In every administration, these ambassadorial plums have too often gone, not to qualified career diplomats, but to rich men who have made substantial contributions to the party treasury and who are able to pay the necessary freight that Uncle Sam should have assumed decades ago.

Much can and is forgiven on an Amateur Hour. But when the professionals throw a spanner in the works, it is something else again. The Democrats are red of face and snorting fire because an experienced professional politician of the true faith had the unmitigated gall to bestow a splendid political plum, not on a deserving Democrat, but on a non-pro qualified to do the best job under the circumstances.

This terrible betrayal of all party political principles is laid at the door of Joseph P. McMurray, State Housing Commissioner of New York (who didn't get that job because he's a political novice).

When McMurray needed a person to become director of the State Housing Division's Management Bureau at a fat salary of $11,320 annually, he broke every political rule and precept. He -- I hesitate to describe the depths to which he sank -- ran an advertisement in the papers in an attempt to find a qualified man for the job when qualified men -- at least politically, and that's all that counts -- were a dime a dozen in every Tammany clubhouse.

To compound his political felony,

McMurray then hired the man from among all the applicants who seemed best qualified -- and never even asked his political affiliations.

Well, any sensible person will see that this sort of thing just won't do. The deserving Democrats and the party faithful saw it quicker than anyone else. If this type of cavalier job placement were allowed to continue, what would become of patronage, the very base on which future victories is built? It would be necessary to scratch the maxim dearest to the political heart: "To the victor belongs the spoils."

The Democrats at once set about righting this great wrong, the qualified man simply melted out of the picture and McMurray humbly admitted his gross error in handling the matter, whose only possible benefit would have accrued to the public.

Joseph T. Sharkey, Democratic boss of Brooklyn, spoke for all right-thinking politicians of both parties when he called the situation to the attention of Governor Averell (Honest Ave) Harriman, with the sentiment, "What kind of a way is this to run a railroad?"

Methinks, if I may rearrange an adage, that politics is the art of the possible by the impossible.

Big Men

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON. -- In the crises of our democracy, minor and major, there always seems to be somebody who will step out to meet the challenge.

More often than not, the individual who rises to the occasion is one who would not have seen himself in such a role and one whom others perhaps would not think of in that way. But there he stands, and the fact itself is a tribute to our democracy. For it happens all the time.

It can be said that the series of episodes over public school integration in the South is major crisis in our democracy. Here and there, as sporadic crises develop to make the major national crisis, one figure after another appears.

A year ago in Clinton, Tenn., it was a Baptist minister, the Rev. Paul Turner, who took several Negro children by the hand and led them to the high school. Just six weeks ago, again at Clinton, it was 10 men and two women, members of the jury which condemned an outside meddler, Frederick John Kasper, and four other men and a woman and found them guilty of conspiring to interfere with integration at the Clinton high school.

Clinton went about its school opening quietly this year, coming through its ordeal because of the courage of a few persons.

Now the crisis is in adjoining Arkansas, in Little Rock.

There a Federal judge was catapulted suddenly into what perhaps will become one of the great Constitutional battles in our history. It was a situation of which Judge Ronald N. Davies did not dream when he packed his small trunk at his home in Fargo, N.D., and told his wife and five children good-bye as he set off in late August for Little Rock. He has been assigned there temporarily to handle business left by the death of a judge for whom a successor has not been named, and, of course, whatever else comes before his court.

The big issue came, literally out of the blue, when he was confronted with a Southern Governor who called out state troops to keep nine Negroes from going to Little Rock's Central High School with 2,000 white boys and girls.

Judge Davies is standing fast on his ruling that integration must go forward immediately under the 10-year program approved by the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals -- a diminutive gentleman, out of a far different background, but truly of America, representing the Constitution and the law for a great democracy.

For the evidence that Governor Orval Faubus of Arkansas submitted to justify calling out the National Guard, Judge Davies had the belittling word "anemic." Somewhat stronger language was used to dismiss the Governor's claims of serious trouble and bloodshed by another figure who has risen up in the Little Rock crisis.

This was a man who ought to know, for Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann of Little Rock knows his city and his people. He knows when they are stirred up, for he has stirred them up often as Mayor. Again, in his challenge of the Governor, he exemplified the courage he has displayed repeatedly as Mayor on other issues. He spoke out to break the great pall of silence that hangs over other Southern public officials, including members of Congress and Southern leaders of Congress. Where are these men? Why don't they speak up?

But two men of courage have spoken up, and two are enough.

These two have had careers typical of our country. Judge Davies was born at Crookston, N.D., did odd jobs about the town and about the weekly newspaper of which his father was editor; went to the University of North Dakota, where his determined strivings to make a letter in track were similar to the athletic ordeal and triumph at Yale of the new Democratic Senator from Wisconsin, William Proxmire.

He took his law here in the national capital at Georgetown University and helped to pay his expenses by working as a policeman at the Capitol. He began the practice of law at Grand Forks, served two terms as municipal judge, was four years in the Army during World War II, and was appointed a Federal judge only two years ago by President Eisenhower. He is 52 years old.

Mayor Mann is younger, as his first two names would attest. He was born in Little Rock in 1916 toward the end of Woodrow Wilson's first Administration. He attended Central High School in Little Rock which is now the center of the integration dispute, and he went to college at the University of Illinois.

During the war he was in the Navy. He worked for a time for an insurance company and then founded his own in Little Rock. He ran as Mayor to unseat Republicans and put Democrats back into power, and since he has held the job he has been in hot water almost constantly. That's because he believed there were things that ought to be done to make his home town a better city. He is its last Mayor. Little Rock goes under the city manager plan when his term ends.

Until an Abraham Lincoln comes along to give national leadership in this civil rights crisis--and none appears now--we must depend on the brave figures whom we know we can count upon to rise out of the rank and file of democracy here and there to meet the crises as they arise locally.

JT. COMMITTEE BOOSTS ESTIMATED COST OF NEW HIGH SCHOOL $100,000

The joint committee of the Warren Area Joint School Board Monday night "played it safe" by boosting the estimated cost of a new high school over $100,000. The original figure was set at about two and one-half million dollars, but the possibility of higher construction costs, etc., encouraged the committee in its unanimous decision.

It was disclosed that the local project number falls within the allotment of $100 thousand set by the state for 1957-58 and will probably come up for consideration some time in the next two months.

The committee was again reminded that to receive the full state bonus it should operate a state approved program. This includes placing grades one through six into the jointure -- the committee elects to arrange this after the new school is built; and that a home and school visitor be employed -- this is to be placed in the 1958-59 budget.

With the exception of one point, the topographical survey of the so-called Swick Site by engineer Fuellhart is complete. Two members of the architectural firm are ill, however, slowing the new high school project down at that end.

A letter from architect Fred D. Ellenberger regarding the third floor of the present high school, which has been reopened to accommodate the large influx of students this fall, stated that structurally the floor was as safe as the first or second. It also pointed out that the floor was originally closed because it lacked sufficient exits. This has been corrected with the installation of a spiral slide type of exit.

Two insurance issues involving football players and an increase for teachers were turned over to the schools committee, the former to be given consideration next season.

Orders written during the month totalled $4,650.74; janitors' overtime was $27; and special services for July and August, $1,101.

On recommendation of the teachers committee the resignations of Miss Doris Smith, John Leathers and Miss Mary Jane McHenry were accepted; Mrs. Betty Sampson was re-assigned high school librarian; A. J. McDonnell was named acting assistant principal at Beaty; Mrs. Meredyth Coe was employed as a substitute for Miss Kathryn Martin during her sabbatical leave; Mrs. Marion King, Mrs. Lois Muir, and Mrs. Dawn Troup, English teachers, and Basil Trowbridge, instructor of special education, were named; and Wallace Jewell, Jr., was made assistant football coach.

Three student teachers will come to Warren from Edinboro State Teachers College the first semester, Miss Christine Hurd will attend the Columbia School Press conference in New York October 18-19 and Matt Hosie the PSEA public relations meeting in Harrisburg October 12-13, James Fales and Dan Stimmell will supervise activity at the Youth Canteen, Mr. McDonnell will take over the chairmanship of the Beaty Fund Activities.

The committee approved six conferences in guidance instruction by a Penn State specialist, the cost to come from the Beaty Fund; set the tuition rates for the year at $29.56 in junior high and $32.36 in high school, a slight increase; allowed one day's unexcused absence for hunting.

It was reported the school enrollments as of September 6 were 258, kindergarten; 1,478, grades 1 through 6; 1,081, grades 7 through 9; and 1,003, grades 10 through 12. This is an increase of 34 students over last year. The average teacher load is 24.8.

Television and Radio

By Alistair Cooke

OUR IMAGE IS BAD

(While John Crosby is on vacation, his column is being conducted by guest writers. Today's contributor is Alistair Cooke, chief American correspondent of "The Manchester Guardian" and master of ceremonies of "Omnibus.")

I am sitting out on a terrace overlooking Peconic Bay on the first flawless day of fall. Whatever the calendar says, it is the fall. The sky is a clean blue wash and the few little clouds are motionless. The bay is a sheet of blue glass. The Weather Bureau says the wind is from the south at seven miles an hour. But the Weather Bureau is a liar. There is no wind at all, only sun and silence. It is the sort of day when you feel the rustle of the sand between your toes, when the window-panes of a little house four miles across the bay on a sandy point glisten like flies preserved in amber.

It is no time or place to be sitting writing a guest column for the beachcomber Crosby, who is probably sitting out on another terrace writing no column at all.

The mere thought of television is an affront to all the senses, most of all to the sense that television pretends to glorify: the visual sense. I am at the moment fascinated by the hard green light on the underside of a century plant and by the diffused, snowy light on the dusty miller that surrounds it. How would this contrast look on television, I wonder (but not for long). It would look terrible. Television can barely distinguish between a pine tree and a Marine standing at attention.

 This is all leading up, none too subtly, to my one vast and continuing gripe against television. For, from the symposium of lamentations that has masqueraded in this space as a series of guest columns, I gather that this is the open season for doom and gloom. We have had distinguished playwrights, novelists, comedians and other double-domes hand down a true bill, whose main indictment is that television is mostly trash. Of course it is. It is a medium of popular entertainment in an age when the mass-man is the only audience that counts. Imagine condemning Victorian literature because the penny novel-ettes, put out for kitchen maids, were not written by Dickens, Thackeray, Hardy or Mark Twain.

I sympathize with the members of the grand jury but I suspect that they are the victims of a smooth, and irrelevant, line of talk from the prosecutor. Television is a medium of communications, no more and no less culpable in itself than the invention of printing. Nobody that I know of has condemned William Caxton for having made possible the universal popularity of Mickey Spillane and Norman Vincent Peale. If television can also exhibit the mind of Frank Lloyd Wright, the acting of James Daly in "Lee at Gettysburg," the dancing of Jose Limon in Purcell's "Moor's Revenge" (all, it suddenly occurred to me, available at a modest rental fee on Omnibus kinescopes) we should be grateful for incidental luxuries that were not in the mind of the man who designed the cathode tube or the manufacturers who captured the medium for the single purpose of boosting their sales of breakfast cereal and hair rinses.

 These men, who won the medium long ago (over the protests of -- guess who? -- the Honorable Herbert Hoover) know that most people deserve what they get; and they give it to them. This is honest and straight-forward. The only hypocrites in this weary cultural argument are the network officials who periodically put out pompous surveys, written in Federal prose, pretending that while they appear to us to be merchants of soap and jiffy steak, they are actually dedicated to the advancement of learning.

What is wrong with television (hal hal), it seems to me, is nothing so high-flown. It is that at the moment the image, the picture you see, is fit only for visual morons. It is commonly less subtle than the early films of the Keystone Kops. It cannot cope with the slightest chiaroscuro. It cannot safely discriminate an animal from a vegetable or mineral in anything further than a medium shot. We have a noticeably worse image than the British and the French. And I am shocked to hear, from a Republican of certified loyalty, that the Russians have the best image of all.

 Now here is really something for the Senate to investigate. For it surely must have something to do with the control of patents; with the over-production of millions of the huge ugly boxes we call TV sets; with our cheerful, all-American skimping on fundamental research. Once we can see what's going on, once we can distinguish a tray of pepper grains from the Confederates advancing at Bull Run:

that will be the time to start up the debate between "I Love Lucy" and "Oedipus Rex." 'Til then, I am paging Sen. Kefauver. (c) 1957 New York Herald Tribune Inc.

To a thoughtful bridegroom-to-be.

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED THESE FACTS IN CHOOSING HER RINGS?

In the happy future ahead, you and your bride may move to a larger home, own a bigger car...but the diamond bridal set you choose now will remain, forever and forever, the one lasting symbol of your love! These precious rings she will always wear...and then pass on to your children.

Does this mean that you must spend more than you can afford for a diamond of impressive size? Not at all. It does mean that you must choose carefully for beauty and quality that will last...for diamonds of exquisite color, purity and cut, guaranteed by a jeweler you can trust.

Every ring set in our stock is handpicked to meet all of these requirements. Whether you plan to spend much or little...we should welcome the chance to show you our selection.

HURRY UP

If you enjoy pictures in color you don't have much time left if you want to catch those late summer greens. And don't think the fall colors are an October event. You will find much scarlet and the brightest of colors coming up fast right now, and the contrasts will be greater, with much deep green still prevalent.

We had an excellent summer for color photography. There was one period of two or three weeks when the air was very clear and made large scale landscape pictures possible. The trouble is you never know when these days are going to be, and you are apt to be loaded with black and white, or leave the camera at home the wrong trip out.

In our work the fun is made more difficult by the need to always have black and white available. If we want color we must carry two cameras. And if there is a good picture we first must consider the news value. Then, if the picture still exists, and we have time, we can grab the color camera. This isn't always easy.

The new fast color film also provides new fields of pictures. Most of us confined our shooting to flower gardens, mountains, fields, contrasting scenes, such as houses, steeples, and many other views.

But with the fast film you can move indoors and you can catch action outdoors.

Football is coming up with its colorful bands, uniforms, crowds, and the game itself. In Warren this is available to you because we choose to play our sport on those beautiful fall afternoons instead of the bleak evenings. This gives you bright sunshine and warm fingers. The scene and the operator are at their best.

NO INTERFERENCE

Those who enjoy the college football games on television will be able to see them this year and also attend the Warren high school home games. The early television games are in the west and do not start until a quarter to five. One starts at 5:15.

NBC is presenting these games, starting September 21, when Texas A and M will meet Maryland. This is played in Dallas and starts at 4:45. Then Michigan State invades California and the gun sounds at 5:15.

The next two games will be Big Ten attractions and will start later than eastern contests. On November 16 the big Oklahoma-Notre Dame battle will be played at Oklahoma, starting at 2:45. This may offer the only conflict. Erie Academy comes to town for the season's finale that day.

The other home games for Warren are Titusville on September 28, Oil City on October 5, Bradford on October 19, and Kane on November 2. None of the eastern football games, most of which will be selected as the season progresses, will be on Warren home dates.

These eastern district games will be televised on October 12 and 26, and November 9 and 23. With the stations that we now are getting, and soon will get, we might even have a selection between the east and the Big Ten on some of these dates because of our fringe area situation.

Highlights of the televised season are expected to be the Notre Dame and Oklahoma battle, and the Army-Navy game on November 30. Other games we didn't mention above are the Brown-Colgate game on November 28, and Miami-Pittsburgh on December 7.

Mel Allen and Bill Flemming will handle the Big Ten regional telecasts. Red Grange and Lindsey Nelson will do most of them and will commentate on the eastern region when those days come around. Pacific Coast announcers will be Chick Hearn and Lee Giroux.

One of the sponsors of the games will be American Machine and Foundry Company, which brings us around to another big sport season that shapes up in the next two weeks. The pioneer in automatic pin-setters for bowling is the AMF outfit. And those big black balls, interspersed by a few brightly mottled ones, will start making league scores this week.

It looks like a big season, with most leagues, at the Penn at least, unable to handle the teams and sponsors. Leagues that were short teams when organized in mid-August, now have extra teams which they can't accommodate. The hardwood boys are anxious to get going, and the girls aren't far behind. They will be in there pitching a week later.

The mixed leagues are becoming increasingly popular. If there were enough alleys, two full ones could be organized with little trouble. It has become a family sport, and one in which the ladies and the young can do just as well as the guy with the muscles.

Move over, dad. This is one you may pay for, but not necessarily win.

DRAGONS OPEN SEASON AT CORRY TOMORROW

Warren High School, with a new head coach and a new offense, will open its 1957 football season in Corry tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. The game has been designated by Corry officials as their seventh annual Potato Festival football game and a trophy will be awarded the winning team. The game will be played at Corry's new high school field on E. Pleasant St.

Coach Ralph Veight's gridders will enter the game with eight returning lettermen from last year's team which won six games and lost four. This year's squad is comprised of 8 seniors, 17 juniors and 3 sophomores.

Coach Lou Hanna will field a team which includes eight monogram winners from Corry's 1956 football team which went undefeated in a nine-game schedule and captured the Section II football championship for the third time in five years. Corry finished in second place the other two years.

In last year's opener for both teams, the Beavers edged the Dragons, 7 to 6, on Memorial Field.

Probable starters for Warren tomorrow night are Don McKelvy and Bill Brumagim, ends; Jim Wick and Jim Olson, tackles; Jim Miller and Dave Sedwick, guards; and Bill Mervine, center. In the backfield Lou Mascaro will play quarterback and direct the Split-T attack, Jack Suppa and Bob Haslet will be the halfbacks and Connie Hultman will operate from the fullback slot.

Managers for this year's team are Dennis Bonavita, Anthony Cerra, Dennis Davis and John James.

DRAGON GRID SCHEDULE

The 1957 Warren High School football schedule lists 10 games, five at home and five on the road. The schedule is: Friday, Sept. 13--at Corry; Friday, Sept. 20--at Franklin; Saturday, September 28--Titusville; Saturday, October 5--Oil City; Friday, October 11--at Meadville; Saturday, October 19--Bradford; Friday, October 25--at Ridgway; Saturday, November 2--Kane; Saturday, November 9--at Jamestown; Saturday, November 16--Erie Academy.

SHEFFIELD FOOTBALL

Four home games and four away games comprise the Sheffield Wolverines' 1957 football slate. The games are: Sept. 14--Warren Reserves; September 21--at Northern Area; Sept. 28--St. Marys; Oct. 5--at Smethport; Oct. 12--Youngsville; Oct. 18--at Otto Township; Oct. 26--Coudersport; Nov. 2--at Port Allegany.

A BASKETBALL LEAGUE to include a Warren team and other area cagers is a definite possibility for this winter. Mel Bines, manager of the Style Shop five, is making efforts to reform the old Allegheny Mountain Basketball loop. The Style Shop would represent Warren in the revived loop that has already been assured four teams.

HOT STOVE CHAMPIONS

Final playoff games have decided champions in the five divisions of the Hot Stove program as the interest of Warren youngsters now turns to playing football. The five title holders are Gaughn's Drug Store, Bantam League; Thomas Flexible Coupling, Midget League; Warren Lions Club, Cadet League; Sylvania Electric, Intermediate League; and Style Shop, Junior League.

CULLIGANS WIN FIRST GAME

Culligans downed Texas Lunch 8 to 5 last night to win the first game of their five game playoff series for the City softball championship. Bill Brown hit a grand slam homerun to erase a 1 to 0 Culligan led and put his Texas Lunch nine ahead 4 to 1. But the winners dented home plate seven times in the top of the seventh and went on to the 8 to 5 win.

The second game of the series will be played at West Side next Monday night with the third game scheduled for the same diamond next Wednesday night. The fourth and fifth games of the series, if necessary, will be played on the West Side Monday and Wednesday of the following week.

The playoff games start at 6 p. m. and seven innings constitute an official game. Rain date for each game is the night after it is originally scheduled.

FEDERAL SERVICES GET WIDE TV TREATMENT

Government agencies continue to provide subject material for television series. Last week it was announced that the State Department had agreed to cooperate with CBS-TV Film Sales, Inc. in the production of a new series tentatively titled "The Diplomat". As the name suggests, the series will deal with the foreign service branch. Mrs. Clair Booth Luce, recent ambassador to Italy, has agreed to act as hostess and narrator.

The "West Point" drama series had about run its course when the United States Military Academy announced that it would continue co-operating in its production for the 1957-58 season. Popular protest to Army officials rescued the series abandoned by CBS and General Foods. New sponsors will be Van Heusen shirts and Carter Products on the ABC network beginning Oct. 8, at 10-10:30 p.m.

"Men of Annapolis", the Naval Academy show, is also ABC, as is "Navy Log". "Silent Service", documentary submarine drama, is carried by CBS.

CBS TO COVER QUEEN ELIZABETH'S U.S. VISIT

In at least five special broadcasts, CBS-TV will cover the highlights of the visit to United States and Canada which Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II of England, will make in October.

The series of broadcasts will include the Queen's arrival in Ottawa, Oct. 12; speech to the Canadian Parliament, the Royal party's arrival in Washington, reception for the Queen tendered by the Joint Committee of Press, Radio and Television Correspondents and Photographers, reception and garden party for the Queen given at the British Embassy; and a ball in Her Majesty's honor in New York City, on the eve of departure, Oct. 21.

TUNE-UP TIME

Are you sure that old blunderbuss won't blow up in your face? Might be a good idea to take it to a gunsmith if you haven't fired it for a year or two, or even if it is a veteran and was used on a few bunnies last fall.

At least, clean it up, and look down the barrel at a target or two.
See how the shot pattern is, and can you hit anything with it, even when that something is standing still?

You can have some fun before the season opens and at the same time prepare for the flight of grouse, the hop of bunnies, and the leaps of squirrels. Use the old cannon on a crow or two, and maybe a chuck will peep at you.

And this will do more than break in the gun. When did you last walk the width of a good-sized field? But you suddenly will start up the nearest mountain about the middle of October? There is more than a gun that can get out of shape. Namely, you!

Unless you have some other sport or activity that has kept you in shape, don't expect suddenly to be a lean Indian scout and trek through the bush all day. If the other sport has involved walking you may be ready for the woodlands, but if your leg exercise has been limited to pushing gasoline and brake pedals you may be asking for trouble.

One slant we always recommend about this time of year is for the hunter to enter into a series of activities that will combine to increase his pleasure. These tie in closely together. Your hunting will be improved if you scout your favorite woods in advance. This will serve to disclose the facts about your potential game supply, exercise your legs, and let you tune up with the weapon. You also will be real foresighted if you stop in at the land-owner's home and make sure he wants you around. This will make all involved much happier.

Such steps can prevent disappointment many times. Your favorite area may be short of game, or it even may be posted. Arising on an early fall morning and hurrying to the preferred spot your plans may be shattered and your day spoiled by your failure to check these points.

You will find it much more pleasant to hunt on land if you enjoy the sense of welcome that comes from knowing the man who owns it and from having his approval. And you will find much better hunting this way, because the very best of the rabbit, squirrel, and bird supply is on open land, much of which is farmed.

You cannot blame any man for refusing you entrance. If you owned a hundred acres of land, some of which was yours to enjoy privately, would you welcome a public parade, a parade loaded with guns, many of which might not be handled by the most expert of marksmen?

As for us we believe we would post a small piece of land to protect our home, our family, and any living thing which belonged to us. For that reason we always have been impressed by the warmth of landowners who waved us into their fields and woodlots, and have been moved to greater caution out of respect for their generosity.

In fact a major share of our hunting is done on land which is owned by others. We hunters really are a presumptuous lot when you face the facts.
